Preface

The Senior Class and Annual Staff present to you the ninth and final volume of "Memoriae Gratae." We have tried to capture something of the spirit of Brookneal High School as it is reflected in the school itself, in the persons who live and learn within its walls and in the activities which fill our school lives with happy memories.

With pride and sadness Class 1951 records here memories of this school year; pride in the achievements of our school through the years of its existence; sadness that we are picturing the final days of the life of Brookneal High School.

May all of her sons and daughters hold fast to the ideals which are expressed in the school pledge:

*"We pledge Allegiance to Brookneal High School
And to the Ideals for which it stands;
Honesty, Courtesy, Self-Control, Co-operation and
Obedience to Authority,
With Kindness and Justice to All."*

Faculty At Ease

1. Daily sunbath for Mrs. Puckette and Miss Bailey.
2. An apple a day for Mrs. Tonkins might give the Third Grade an A for the day.
3. Hold that pose Mrs. Bailey and look your best.
4. Mrs. Wilson is enjoying the afternoon recess.
5. Mrs. Barlow seems contented teaching the Second Grade.
6. This seems to be Mr. Kirby's lazy day, but Eunice seems to be busy.
7. Goodbye Miss Whitlow, the Seniors will be at it again tomorrow.
8. Hold on to that grade book Mrs. Straw.
9. The Seventh Grade must have been good today, Mrs. Foster.
10. Always keep that smile Mrs. Guthrie, especially in English.
11. Miss Scott makes a mighty pretty music teacher.
12. Miss Tune seems to be looking for something; could it be the Fourth Grade?
13. Mrs. Fore is lending a helping hand.
14. Mighty pretty smile Mrs. Adams. It must be for someone special.

Last Will and Testament

We, the Seniors of '51 being of sound mind and of willing spirit (we hope) do hereby enumerate our bequeathed possessions.

To Nancy Foster, Jean Daniel bequeaths her ability to drive Miss Whitlow's car. Watch out, Nancy!

Beck Tucker leaves Sandra Daniel her habit of fouling out of basketball games. Can you use it, Sandra?

Chris leaves to Donald Shotwell his accuracy from the free throw line. Don't wear the line out, Duck!

Pete, to his sorrow, bequeaths to Lowe Lunsford, his affection for blondes, brunettes, or redheads? Methinks it's a brunette!

As much as Lyle Joy hates to give up his favorite pastime, sleeping in class, he has agreed to leave it to Carroll Marshall.

In order that Sydney Foster may wink at the girls next year, Shirley Brandt wills him her big, brown eyes. Beware!

Claude Rowles wills his ability to attract girls to Paige Foster. "There's Been A Change In Me", says Paige.

To Anne Elder, Carolyn Slate bequeaths her love for '50 Mercurys.

Mary Sue Sheets, with tears in her eyes, leaves her love for the Army to Elizabeth Jennings.

To whom it may concern: Mari Lynn Stanley leaves her wiles, and her boy friend, on the shelf until next leap year.

Wallace Roark leaves his grumbling to Bill Cameron.

With flashing eyes, Joyce Via leaves her flirting ability to Walter Harvey. Start practicing, Walter.

To Gloria Nicholson, Carolyn Ann leaves her method of getting out of study hall. Want to try it out, Gloria?

Peggy Pollard leaves her "Golden Voice" and position as song leader to Doris Ann.

Lastly, after four years crammed full of excitement, fun, and some disappointments, we come to the end of our high school road, leaving nothing perhaps, but taking with us countless memories of the spirit of B.H.S. and of a devotion to our Alma Mater, which has guided us during the happiest days of our lives. Therefore to our Principal, to our Sponsor, and to all our teachers, we leave our thanks for their inspiration, their words of wisdom, and their patience.

Given under our hand and seal, this St. Valentine Day of February, Nineteen Hundred Fifty-One, by the:
